The will of James H. Allen, wealthy otton broker, who died Aug. 29, at the age of 72, was filed for probate this orning. Although it divides his property almost equally among his widow and five children, it contains the remarkable statement that each heir has promised to give half of his inheri-tance to charitable and Christian work and to use the other half to try to earn other porperty to "be used for good Christian purposes."

The estate, according to a close frien and associate, will show considerably more than $1,000,000 in assets, but there is no way of approximating the liabili-ties until an inventory is taken. More Railroads Needed.

Turkey needed a rapid extension of its railroad system, said the banker. It needed more roads, though paradoxionl as it might seem, Turkey had never half of many good roads as had been built during the war. Then, the peasant would have to be trained and relieved from much of the petty interference he is still subject to. "That depends upon what measures are taken by the Turkish Government to protect the foreign investor," replied the banker. "I believe that Turkey would have no difficulty getting all the money she needs, provided it can establish beyond all doubt that the Ottoman laws and courts will insure equity to all concerned. If that cannot be established, then Turkey will find no money, especially after this war, when home needs will make first call upon the funds of investors."

No Bleasing to Turkey.

Industries established by foreigners under the capitulations had been no blessing to Turkey, said this man, citing in proof thereof the abuses of which a paper mill operated by Austrians is said to have been guilty. The rights granted under the capitulation had in this case stifled foreign competition and had given rise to a monopoly whose sole aim, it was alleged, was to sell the pootent of the position secure.

IN RECOVERY OF STOLEN AUTO outh, Who Is Arrested, Says He Bought Machine—Another License Found Under Seat.

nse tag hanging at an u A license tag hanging at an unusual angle on an auto driven by William ii. Hicks, 19 years old, of 3863 Wash ington avenue, attracted the attention a traffic policeman at Sixth and Pine streets yesterday afternoon and caused him to arrest Hicks. The car was found afterwards to have been stolen and Hicks is being held until he can substantiate his story that he bought it from a mysterious Mr. Gibson.

The law requires that a license tag shall be kept in a horizontal position, but the one on Hicks' machine was almost vertical. The policeman was aking Hicks in the car to headquarters for interrogation when he discovered another tag, hearing State license No. 05.339, under the seat.

The police records show that in th heavy rainstorm of the night of Aug. 19 three weeks.

Grand Duke Nicholas Has New Chief of Staff-Gen. Russky Returns to Service.

LONDON, Sept. 3.-Formal announce ment from Betrograd today of several important changes in the high command of the Russian armies overshadows the immediate reports from the front in importance and interest and in military

Gen. Yanushevitch, who has served as chief of staff for the Grand Duke Nicholas since Gen. Russky retired several months ago because of ill health, has been removed from office and sent to the comparatively insignificant post of assistant viceroy of the Caucasus. His successor is Gen. Alexiev, who until now has been Commander in Chief of the armies on the northwestern front, and whose brilliant defense of Riga and the line of the Dvina against Riga and the line of the Dvina against Field Marshal von Hindenburg is believed to have won his promotion. These changes, with the return to active command in the north of Gen. Russky, who until his retirement was one of Russia's most brilliant and popular generals, are believed here to mean that the Grand Duke Nicholas, while his armies are still retreating, has undertaken to bring about a therough reviganisation of his forces from the top. This, with the increasing reports of organization of his forces from the top. This, with the increasing reports of Russia's activity in the manufacture of her own munitions, in the raising and training of new levies of troops, and in the general mobilization of all her in-dustrial resources for war, are be-

Pleeing Machine, Pursued by Meter-cycle Patrolman, Knocks Hub Off Another Motor Car.

Thomas Hebert, 25 years old, of 14 North King's highway, an auto salesman, was driving a racing car almost "a mile a minute," according to the police, when motor cycle patrolmen saw lice, when motor cycle patrolmen saw him at Leffingwell avenue and Locust street at 10:30 o'clock last night.

The patrolmen chased Hebert east on Locust to Twenty-first street, north to Washington avenue, west to Twenty-third and north to Wash street, where he stopped after one of the policemen had fired two shots in the air to frighten him. At Twenty-first and Locust streets Hebert's car grazed the autonobile of Harry Appel of 1108 North wentieth street. The hub was knocked from a front wheel of Appel's machine but no one was hurt.

Hebert was taken to the Laclede ave nue Station where he was permitted to sign bonds covering charges of speed-ing and carelessness.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept &-The ac escence of Germany to America's ion for the rights of nonexant citizens on commercial liners o belligerents "should be the cause of profound rejoioing by every patriotic American and the outsion for congratu lation to the President," said William Howard Taft, former President of the United States in an address yesterday at the Taft day celebration at the Panama

Pacific Exposition.

"The very recent news from Washing ton," the former President said, "shows that the firm attitude of President Wilsen in maintaining the rights of our oncombatant citizens on commercial ners of belligerents to be safe from rowning without warning and an oppor nity for rescue has been ac

"This must and should be the cause of profound rejoicing by every patriotic American and the occasion for congrat-ulation to the President."

ulation to the President.

"It must relieve the strain between the two countries. The shadow of a serious breach passes.

"It should not, however, lead our people away from their duty of reasonable preparation. The incident, though closed as we all hope, except as to indemnity for the lives of those already drowned, shows how near, as neutrals, we are to the war. It shows that we must be careful to insist upon our rights as such and that we ought to be reasonably prepared to defend against their invasion by any belligerent Powers.

Necessary Preparations.

Necessary Preparations

After outlining the naval and military preparations which he considered neces-ary for this country to make, Prof. Taft estimated what the preparations would cost, indicated how the money might be raised and made a plea for the exclusion of politics from the question of preparedness and for the employment of expert advice.

In summing up what he regarded as necessary preparations, he said:
"First, an increase of our navy tonnage as rapidly as possible by 30 per cent and an immediate increase of the persunnel of the navy by nearly 20,000 sailors and 900 officers.

"Second, an increase in ammunition for our great coast defense guns, the mak-ing of a few 16-inch guns and the com-pletion of defense of the Chesapeake at Cape Henry. In addition an increase of 10,000 trained coast artillerymen and 800 officers to man the coast defenses properly.

"Third, an increase in our regular mobile army of 50,000 troops and a quadrupling of the supply of educated military officers. We should also adopt a reduced term of enlistment with inducement to the formation of a reserve of trained men."

He pointed out, however, that the treasury of the United States is not in a condition to warrant such expenditures.

"The program I have proposed," he said, "modest as it is, will certainly increase the annual total of the army and navy appropriations by perhaps 1150,000,000 for each of three years and

How Money Could Be Raised.
"This leaves $25,000,000 at least of coassary income to be provided for by necessary income to be provided for by new legislation of Congress over and above what existing law would probably produce. This could be partly made up by the renewal of the war tax and of the sugar tax, yielding say $125,000,000. There would be left from $180,000,000 to $200,000,000 of a deficit still to be provided for either by cutting down expenses or by additional taxation."

The former President suggested that expenses could be cut down by giving authority and responsibility to one body of men to consider the whole field of tovernment income and expenditure. A large sum, he said, would in any cir-

Government income and expenditure. A large sum, he said, would in any circumstances have to be raised by taxation. As a Republican, he said, he believed that a change of policy to a higher protective tariff would serve most satisfactorily but he would not urge it ecause:

"I am trying to make practical suggestions and not a partisan speech and I am looking to what may reasonably be demanded of a patriotic Democratic Congress in view of the imperative need ncreasing our national income and of their anti-protection views. Small Tax on Small Incomes, "The imposition of a small tax on small incomes asks a sacrifice from our patriotic citizens that they will be willing to make if our politicians have the courage to impose it and explain the imperative necessity.

courage to impose it and explain the imperative necessity.

"The payment of a tax, however small, makes a man a better citizen. To assume that the plain people are unwilling to pay increased taxes in case of national need is to distrust them and to ascribe to tham the lowest motive for political action.

"Lat us exclude politics from the question of preparedness. Let us accept the cost. Let us insist that Congress and the administration manifest the courage to incur the odium of unthinking and unparriotic men who would resent contributing to such a cause. Let us insist that the Congress and the administration shall defer to the judgment of real expert naval and army officers and boards as to how we should prepare and shall not allow the dangerous little knowledge of committee chairmen and divilian politicians, ignorant of our needs, to obstruct the work of proper national defense."

Grave Digger, Taken to Observation Doesn't Remember Affair. Charles Lowery, 24 years old, of 2125 Louise avenue, a grave digger, was taken to the City Hospital observation ward last night after a revolver had teen taken from him by Miss Anna Marie Goldsmith of 6134 Wells avenue in the office of Dr. C. D. Potts, $118A Easton avenue, where she is employed. Lowery entered the office and handed plece of paper to Miss Goldsmith. Before she could read what was on it, he took a revolver from his coat pocket. Miss Goldsmith snatched the weapon from his hand and threw it into a hallway. She then fled to the street, Lowery was arrested a few minutes later at the Hodiamont tracks and Easten avenue. He had no revolver, but there was an unopened box of cartridges his pocket. Lowery talked ramblingly of the affair at the hospital this morning, saying he had gone to the office to pay a bill and that he didn't remember flourishing the revolver. He said he was tak-ing the weapon and cartridges to his father, who is a watchman.

George Easthope of 4614 Bulwer ave nue, and his wife, made a strong protest to Deputy Coroner Furlong today against a verdict of accidental shooting had been rendered in the inquest into the death of their son George, 7 years old, who was shot and killed Wednes day afternoon by a playmate, Hugo Miller, 6, years old. The boys were in an attic at the residence of William Jacobsmeyer, 4628 Bulwer avenue and Miller had secured a cat rifle from a second story room.

Hugo had testified that he had not quarreled with the Easthope boy and that he had no idea the rifle was loaded when he aimed it at him and pulled the trigger. Deputy Coroner Furlong said he was satisfied that the ooting was accidental and started to discharge the witnesses. As he did so, Mr. and Mrs. Easthope who had been weeping during the testi-mony of Miller, walked to his desk and Easthope said in a loud tone: "This is not justice. I want an in-vestigation." Mrs. Easthope cried. "We will have justice." She became hysteri-

HERMAN SWOBB: We received your letter and will publish the list if you will furnish it and tend us your address as evidence of good faith. We don't accept anonymous communications.—Ed-

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Personally I am gratified to learn that through the letter of Mr. Nolan, the City Council of Webter Greves is taking preliminary steps to safethat little city. In fact, every citizen of Webster Greves will be pleased to learn of the fact. How-ever, how is it possible when stating facts as to the conditions that now exist, one can be accused of laboring under misapprehensions? We have from Councilman Nolan's own lips the following statement (see Pest-Dispatch of Sept. 1, 1918): "The Fire Committee of the Council and the entire Council IS NOW co-operating with the Civic League of Webster Groves on a plan, the details of which we are not at this time prepared

I am free to confess that I am not cognisant of any star-chamber methods on its part. If I am guilty of MISAPPREHENSION as to elley that is not yet divulged, hope our chisen and Councilman, John A. Nolan, ill tell me how it can be possible.

Moreover, the statement of Mr. Nolan to the offect that the building regulations of St. Louis, upon annexation, would at once go into effect, annegation, would at once go into effect, by making it impossible to erect frame build-or make alterations in the ones already led is a statement that is of the utmost vital fore I take great pleasure in refuting the statement of Mr. Nolen. The building regulations of St. Louis applying to frame buildings mentioned by Mr. Nolan, are effective only within the fire ich does not apply to many of the outer within the city's boundary lines. Outide of that fire line, frame dwellings can be con ed and alterations made. To substantiate nent which I have made, I will refer anyone who is interested in this subject of fire rtion in case of annexation, to no less a ser of the City of St. Louis, whose address is Room 426, City Hall, corner of Twelfth DAVID I. We are sorry to say that the new ruling of the inited flailway in reference to the stoppage at everal places throughout their course is of no onsequence. Must the public get drenched to facilitate the road service of a gain of perhaps one or two minutes? I am on the road to accommodate the transit company. ST. LOUIS-MADE MOTOR CARS.

Motor car enterprises, one in St. Louis backed by $1,000,000 and a second in Macon, well within the jurisdiction of the St. Louis industrial district, are planned by capitalists of this city.

This enlargement of interest in one of the mos aportant and lucrative of American industries of course, belated. The demonstrated success of other localities should have led to plans on an equal or greater scale half a decade or more ago. But it comes at a time when the promise of rewards is still most inviting.

Railroads, facsame facility as the center of all population, it would seem that accident had located enormous plants at the places from which the average freight haul to purchasers would be longest.

St. Louis, admirably located for all manufactures destined for general consumption, is especially well located for convenient and economical distribution to the motor car trade. Tens of thousands of automobiles will be bought in the territory to the west and southwest of this city in the next 10 years. St. Louis should profit by its advantages in location over points from 300 to 500 miles or more farther east and north.

It will sacrifice by neglect one of its greatest and most manifest opportunities if it does not apecial session will have to be called to provide manufacture in the future a very large percentage for the deficiency in the revenues. FOOD FOR WARRING NATIONS.

Little attention has been given to the decision of the German prize court in the case of the seiz ure and destruction of a Dutch steamer with a er, who favors a municipal dock for river traf- cargo of wheat which was captured by the sea raider Karlsruhe, yet as establishing a precedent works surplus to finance it. The cost of the pro- and a principle of action on the part of the Teujected dock is not large; the estimate reaches only tonic Government, it is one of the most important

Now the German prize court rules that no fic. It is impossible to open on a sound basis indemnity shall be paid since there was no assurwithout modern docking facilities. We must have ance that the wheat would not fall into the hands of the British military establishment.

Sept. 21 was long before the English order in council. If Germany stands on its decision, it cuts away the ground on which the Fatherland's propagandists in this country have long stood and answers for all time the protest against the allies' policy of trying to starve Germany, since nothing could be clearer that there cannot be one rule for foodstuffs shipped to one belligerent and a contrary rule for supplies sent to another.

ARE WE GREAT BRITAIN'S GUARDIAN?

The London press seems far from satisfied with the diplomatic victory that President Wilson has wrested from Germany. Apparently the London newspapers believe that it was the duty of the United States to suppress the German submarine campaign against British shipping in all of its aspects and to do for Great Britain what the British navy cannot or will not do.

The interpretation of neutral obligations may will make little appeal to Americans. The United States Government has done what it set out to do. It has maintained international law not merely for its own benefit, but for the benefit of civilization. If Great Britain is not satisfied Great Britain is free to carry the victory to its ultimate conclusion. That is what the British navy is supposed to be for.

This London journalistic notion that American diplomacy should have rescued British shipping from all danger of German attack is characteris tie of the contemporary British mind. Wheneve an Englishman's head is punched by a belligeren foreigner in any corner of the earth, the Britis press rises in solemn dignity and dramatically exclaims, "What does the United States intend to de about this infamy?" If the United States must act as guardian for Great Britain in this war and fight Great Britain's battles, we shall insist first that the British Government be turned over to President Wilson for competent administration.

The Inventor of Picture Plays

By Robert Grau.

N the 9th of October, 21 years ago
(the screen drama has come of age), an interesting group of New Yorkers received invitations to attend a "dress rehearsal" of a picture play. Very few of those who were summoned knew what a picture pissilkely to be. The common attitude resembled that of President Cleveland, sembled that of President Cleveland, ned knew what a picture play was who posed for one of the early scenes, and who inquired frankly, "What is a picture play?" The term meant nothing at all to the average first nighter who went to that studio in Sixteenth street. There were, indeed, a succession of "first nights" of the invitation sort in New York, Boston, Chicago and other cities. In the groups that watched these first risings of a pictured curtain were Edward Everett Hale, Margaret Deland, Edmund Clarence Stedman, Seth Low, rving Bacheller, Frank R. Stockton William Dean Howells, Brander Matthews, Augustus Saint Gaudens, John Fiske, Franklin Sargent, Arthur Scribner and many other writing men, students of the drama, artists and professional celebrities of the time. Possibly these were skeptical groups, for prophesies of true novelty seldon fulfilled. The printed evidence seems to show that the premiere on that October evening occasioned amazement and delight. In these days of the new art's fertile and audacious maturity i is not easy to fancy with just what effect of newness and prophecy "Miss Jerry" struck these first audiences. The program said, "Written, illustrated and presented by Alexander Black." The lean, spectacled person thus credited with doing it all, stood beside the white haracters. He did somewhat more; for he described certain forms of action that could not be interpreted by this first orm of play. There was no perfected notion picture machine in those days, and the best that even a special form of stereopticon could do was four or five pictures a minute. These pictures when superimposed gave the effect of a slow motion picture. All pictures have to be "still" to be shown on the screen, and the sole point of difference between these primitive plays and their modern development is in the rapidity of reiteration. In the ordinary motion picture of today the halted-and-moved-on images succeed one second. Thus, motion is an illusion, do you keep the pictures still and move

It must have been gratifying, too, play" or "photo play" was accepted as seen in different relations, just as charecters do on the stage. All these pictures are life-size, so that after a few scores have been shown, the spectators lose the sense of viewing pictures and fancy the figures real."

length plays came through the motion picture machine. For 10 years or so Mr Black was known throughout the country as "the picture play man." Evidently he had to earn the title, for he wrote his own plays, made his own pic-

Horsepower.

The use of the "horse-power" as a neasure of an engine's work came naturally from the fact that the first ngines were built to do work which had formerly been performed by John Smeaton, who built atmospheric engines before Bolton and Watt placed their more complete machine on the market, had valued the work done by a strong horse as equal to lifting a weight of 22,000 pounds one foot high a minute. When Bolton and Watt began to bid for public favor, they agreed to place their engines for "the value of one-third part of the coals which are saved in its use." They also increased the value of the horse-power to 33,000 foot-pounds, so that their engines were half again as powerful for their rated power as hose of their competitors. In this way they established the value of the horse-power. The following are the Thirty-three thousand foot-pounds minute, 550 foot-pounds a second, 2565 thermal units an hour, 42.75 thermal nits a minute. The horse-power of boiler depends on its capacity for hirty pounds of water from 100 degrees Fahrenheit into steam at sever ounds' gauge pressure equals 3414 helt is equivalent to a horse-power.

Powdered Coal.

SOME of the big railroads have been using powdered coal with very sat isfactory results. The coal, finely pow dered and dried, is stored in receptacles from which it is blown into the firebox in jets by air pressure, much the same as oil fuel is used. The dry powder is converted into gas almost instantant ously, the temperature of the firebox wered and the obje black smoke is obviated. This method omical of fuel than ordinary firing and materially lessen the labor of stoking.

It is well to remember that when Mr. Black first contemplated putting on his plays with motion pictures, motion picture projection was so imperfect that anything running longer than a few minutes was regarded as an impossible strain on the eyes. What an amazing advance to the present smoot

What does this many-sided man think of the modern picture play? "You ouldn't guess," he said the other day, "the one objection raised by every artist with whom I talked over my pic-ture play scheme. They all said: Your pictures will be stiff. It's all right to graph, but go beyond that number and your groups will be wooden. You never saw a group photograph that wasn't stiff, did you?' Will always be reckoned
A red-letter day in our history;
Our ball teams all won,

Will always remain a dark mystery.

'The Erowns won a game
'And the Cards did the same,
Whereat all the fans were enraptured;
But their joy was supreme
When the Terrier team
Kicked in and another one captured.

Oh, yes, we'll remember
That day in September,
Though other events may grow hazy:
When the Browns and the Feds
And the Cards lost their heads and all of a sudden went crazy.

OF all the months in the year we like September best, mainly for like September best, mainly for the reason that 29 days after the first of September we have October, with its beautiful brown and gold autumn leaves, the crispy, frosty mornings and evenings, and the delightful, delectable brown October ale. We have never tasted brown October ale, but have no doubt that it is a perfectly delicious drink, if taken in moderation the same as grape juice or water.

Then comes November and December in the order named, and bingot the first thing we know along comes Christmas. We are fond of Christmas for it is then but one short week until the first of January, which marks the beginning of a new year, at which time we make an entirely new set of resolutions, some of which last as long as the first of February.

Perfect weather for spring wheat harvest, talk of peace in Europe, irregular cables and slack cash and export demands clipped over it off wheat values in the early trading on the Merchants' Exchange today. Corn was weak, it down, on fine weather for the new crop. Oats were easy in sympathy.

The official Liverpool cable said:
"Firmness in Winnipeg and steadler American cables served to cause lighter offers here, and the undertone was steady, with a broadening demand and miliers absorbing heavily. Spot market irregular. Manitoba 3d higher. United Kingdom weather is unsettled. Corn market quiet, but the undertone steady, with lighter shipments from Argentins, and parcels were 1½d higher. Weathet in United Kingdom is unsettled, with rain in parts. France wet, movement light. Italy unsettled. Russia cold with rain. Balkan states, fine. Buenos Aires wheat closed firm, with support in new crop months. Corn was irregular. Spot, easier, while distant months are firmly held.

Liverpool spot wheat id lower to ½d lagher; corn and oats unchanged.
Russell's News, New York, said: "A charter of one steamer was reported last night from the guif to Sydney, New South Wales. It is stated that comprehensive arrangements are to be maile for hastening export papers. Instead of waiting six or seven days after a ship has sailed for the cargo and manifest, such information will be compiled before the vessel sails. A great deal of uncasiness has developed the last day or two over the condition of the exchange market and its effect on the export business. It is pointed out that the great demoralization in the exchange, for continued, would force export buying, not only of grain but of all other goods, to other countries where the discounts were not so great, and would give an important preference for Canadian grain and possibly grain from the Argentine."

Northwest cars: Today, Minneapolis, 37; Duiuth, 5; Winnipes, 22; last week, Minneapolis stocks of wheat decreased 115,000 bu for the week.

Foreign weather and crop reports said:

"Arge

hand from all sections, particularly north and center. Corn continues to grade excellent, with weather favoring both grading and movement. Interior holding fair reserves and with a slackened export demand they are offering more freely and stocks at ports increasing. Freight very firm. "Tinted Kingdom—Weather again unfavorable, being wet, with rain forecasted. Reports from harvesting districts are of delayed threshing and movement. "France—Weather unfavorable; threshing impeded, while stocks are inadequate. Millers are complaining, as foreign arrivals are lighter and native offers practically nothing. "India—Dryness continues over a wide area, and seeding has already commenced and will advance henceforth. Interior is holding fair reserves, but selling nothing. Shipments this week are estimated at 8000 bushels, and next week nothing. Reports from Berlin state that small progress is being made by the enemy in the Dardanelles, and it is noted by our agents' reports that very little wheat from Russia's interior is moving to Black Sea ports."

The Modern Miller said: "Threshing was again retarded in the greater part of the winter wheat belt this week, with rains in Nebraska, Kapsas, portions of Southern Illinois, Missouri and Ohlo. Most threshing progress was made in Central Illinois, Indiana and Northern Ohlo, but cool weather prevents rapid shock drying. Conditions are now favorable for more rapid threshing, with warmer and better weather in prospect. In the spring wheat states there were favorable harvest conditions, and active threshing in North and South Dakota, but rains in Minnesota retarded work to some extent. Reports indicate a movement of spring wheat in volume in the next few weeks. There are no export accumulations at any interior points, and the light movement is being rapidly absorbed for domestic requirements."

Argenthe shipments of wheat were 200,600 bu; corn, 2,975,000 bu; oats, 550.

A STATEMENT OF FACT

By THE ST. LOUIS STAR

The so-called talk of a paper carriers' strike against the St. Louis Star is the result of gaining two and a half hours on our news service. We will in the future print our Complete Home Edition at 2:30 in the afternoon. This edition is now, and has been for years, printed at 12 o'clock, when all other afternoon newspapers in St. Louis print their Home

Edition. Our New High-Speed Octupie Goss Press and our present High-Speed Sextuple Goss Press make it possible for us to print 108,000 complete copies of The Star per hour, and therefore we are in a position to go to press with two and a half hours later news then other discrete.

Some carriers, who find it inconvenient to carry The Star at the time we want it carried, have refused to carry The Star all, and this is the so-called strike. To print the Complete Home Edition two and a half hours earlier would inconvenience thousands of subscribers.

Some of the carriers refusing to deliver The Star, we are forced to put independent carriers on the routes. This caused many changes, some confusion, and perhaps a little delay. Within four or five days, however, everything will be running along smoothly and the readers of afternoon newspapers will receive The Star as usual, and at the same time. However, The Star will contain two and a half hours' later news made possible by the high great present.

later news, made possible by the high speed presses and motor trucks of The Star.

The following statements given out, make the position of The Star in this matter perfectly clear:

"The issuing and distributing of circulars by the Paper Carriers' Union of St. Louis against The St. Louis Star has not been endorsed by the Central Trades and Labor Union. The Paper Carriers' Union has not come to the Central Trades and Labor Union for any endorsement and whatever is being done is by the Carriers' Union individually."

DAVID KREYLING (Statement), Secretary Central Trades and Labor Union.

"This is to certify that The St. Louis Star employs none but members of the Typographical Union, Web Pressman's Union No. 2, Pressman's Union No. 6, Stereotypers' Union, Mallers' Union and Photo-Engravers' Union in their establishment, and is fair to all other branches of the printing industry. This is evidenced by the fact that they carry the label of the Allied Printing Trades Council."

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN G. WARRINGTON (Statement),

Secretary Allied Printing Trades Council.

L. J. VAN LAEYS,

"I haven't a dish left," said Mrs. Jarr.
"We can't eat off the table, can we?
You know yourself the way Gertrude breaks cups and plates and saucers."
"I thought Gertrude's specialty was burning food, but she is a breaker, too, is she?" asked Mr. Jarr.
"Is there any one of them that isn't a breaker?" retorted Mrs. Jarr,: "Every time you get a new girl you have to get new dishes and new kitchenware.
Come now, give me three and a half.
Tou needn't look so sour. That will be only part of the money. I'll pay for the

She did not say, however, that the whole bill of goods was only $3.36, and that her contribution was but 43 cents. Mr. Jarr, bereft of his expense money for the week, made moodily for the subway. There he met his friend Rangle.

"I'd ask you to have a drink," said Mr. Rangle, disconsolately, "but my wife was downtown anopping with your wife yesterday and the things came this morning and she took all of my money to pay for them."

"Same thing happened to me," said Mr. Jarr. "I see a week before me of privation and careful living. Doggone it How am I going to get through on what I have? And down at our office you could give an imitation of a widow and a'x orphans evicted to starve on the sidewalk during a snowstorm, and Because some Fellow's dined "Who's to pay for the tickets." asked Mr. Jarr.

"Tou, of course,' said Mr. Rangia.

"Well, my wife told me to let you take me to see a show, as you surely owed me that much," said Mr. Jarr.

"It know a place where I can sign was a tournament on, but the entrance of the check for dinner," ventured Mr. Rangia, after thinking a minute. "That bowling of a dozen duffer players, said me that much," said Mr. Jarr.

"Tom,' she murmiured, "didn't you tell me once you would be willing to do any too much, and if you come across for the sweepstakes that were up from the day night after church, and she looked with ineffable tenderness into his noble bus eyes.
